

Privacy Policy

Information that you (the "Client" or "You") provide to Mayflower Exploration (the "Company" or "Us") is Private Information unless it is provided by a Client to Us for publication on the Website. This Website is an information and advertising site and as such, in order for people to contact you, Clients will be required to provide certain contact or property information which will then be Public Information. Certain information that you enter into our login and Signup Registration screen (such as your address or phone number) if not entered into your Client ad, will be Private Information and will not be provided to third parties without the consent of the Client. For clarity, any information provided by a Client to the Company or to the Website which is provided by a Client for a Client's ad (such as a Client's contact information, which may include a Client's email address, name or Company name, phone number, property description, zip or postal code for the property or lands being advertised) is Public Information. In the event a Client at any time discloses or provides any other Public Information to either or both of the Website or to the Company, such Public Information shall be deemed to be in the public domain. Any such Public Information provided to the Company shall be deemed authorized by the Client but shall not be re-sold or provided to third parties by the Company or the Website without the consent of the Client. When using this Website, you acknowledge and agree to the terms of this Privacy Policy.

The Company may collect information (which shall be deemed to be Public Information) about your use of our website through the use of cookies. The information collected by cookies allows us to statistically monitor how many people are using our Website. We may use cookie information to determine the popularity of certain content and how long visitors stay on the Website.

Additionally, the Company may include a third party cookie from Google in order to use Google Analytics to monitor site statistics. Please note that Google and its wholly owned subsidiaries may retain and use, subject to the terms of its Privacy Policy (located at <http://www.google.com/privacy.html>, or such other URL as Google may provide from time to time), information collected in Your use of the Service.

Most browsers offer instructions on how to reset the browser to reject cookies in the Help section of the toolbar. You do not have to accept our cookies in order to productively use our Website. We do not use cookies to collect or store personal information about you. When you visit the Website, the Company may automatically collect certain non-identifying information about You, such as the type of browser or computer operating system You use or the domain name of the site from which You linked to Us. Any automatically collected information may be maintained indefinitely and used for our internal business and marketing purposes, such as assessing traffic patterns and usage of various features on this Website, but will not be sold or otherwise disclosed to third parties for any purposes. Notwithstanding any other statements or representations here or elsewhere on our Website, the Company reserves its right to disclose any information in its possession if it is required to do so by law, or it believes, in good faith, that such a disclosure is necessary to comply with the law, defend its rights or property.
